CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Mrs. Charles Phillips, formerly of this city, but now of Parcellville, Va., is visiting Mrs. Robert L. Huntington, in Cameron street.

The ladies of the Temple Sisterhood extend many thanks to all who helped to make their euchre held Wednesday night a success.

Mr. Nevell S. Greenaway, clerk of the courts, is confined to his home, 214 North Columbus street, suffering from a severe cold.

The military police of the city have moved their headquarters from 117 North Columbus street to the second floor of the Ingomar Theatre on King between Washington and St. Asaph streets.

Sergt. Robert Webber, who recently returned from overseas, and who is now stationed at the Camp Meade Hospital, is spending a few days as the guest of his mother, Mrs. E. W. Phillip, 331 North St. Asaph street.

Mr. Charles Bendheim, who since early in February has been in New York state on business for the government, has returned home. Mr. Bendheim is conciliator of the Department of Labor.

Owing to the lack of a quorum there was no meeting of the agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce last night. A meeting of the civic bureau of that organization will be held Monday night.

In the account published yesterday of the dedication of the hut at Camp Humphreys Sunday afternoon by the Jewish Welfare Board the name of Mrs. Robert P. Whitestone was inadvertently omitted from the reception committee. Dr. Samuel Gerson is in charge of the personal service cases, and not Dr. Gersh as was stated.

The district quarterly meeting will be held at the Free Methodist Church beginning tonight. Rev. L. H. Kelley pastor, invites all persons to attend. The preachers for this district and the district elder, Rev. Edward M. Sandys, will be present and do the preaching. Services tonight will be at 7.30 o'clock Saturday 10.30 a. m., and 7.30 p. m.; Sunday, 10.30 a. m., 2.30 p. m., and 7.30 p. m.

WIFE FOLLOWS HUSBAND

Five Small Children in Spotsylvania County Made Homeless by Influenza.
Fredericksburg, Va., Jan. 24.—Mrs. Eddie M. Orrock died at her home in Spotsylvania county, near this city, Wednesday afternoon while the funeral of her husband was taking place. Mr. Orrock died Monday of pneumonia and his wife contracted the same disease. In both cases the disease developed from influenza. Five small children survive their parents. Several of these are ill with influenza.

ITALY AND JUGO-SLAVS

Italy will concede Fiume to the Jugo-Slavs, but will insist upon supremacy in the Adriatic, it is learned in diplomatic circles in Washington. Italian diplomats are inclined to deny allegations, that Italy seeks control of the foreign commerce of Jugo-Slavia. The Slavs are being provided with ample seaport facilities, they assert, and will be assured full economic guarantees by the peace conference.

LAST RITES FOR MRS. DEIKE.

The funeral of Mrs. Anna Maria Deike took place this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. H. P. Wilson, Hollin Hall, Fairfax county. Services were conducted by Rev. Carl J. Goette, pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran Church. Burial was in the Presbyterian cemetery.

Pallbearers were Representative C. C. Carlin, Judge L. C. Barley, J. M. Duncan, J. Frank Carlin, Frederick P. Russell and F. H. Wilkinson, of Fairfax county.

For half a century the deceased lived in Oakland, Cal.

Decrease of Ten Cases This Week as Compared With Preceding Week—Not Over 100 Cases in City—No Cause for Alarm.

Although there are approximately 100 cases of influenza existing in this city at present there is absolutely no occasion for alarm as the disease has not assumed the proportions of an epidemic according to local health officials.

During the past week the number of cases has shown a slight decrease and with cold weather conditions prevailing it is believed that a further decrease will be shown when reports received from the physicians are compiled at the close of the present week.

The total number of cases reported as existing in the city last week were eighty-four and the week previous a total of ninety-four cases were reported or a decrease of ten.

In view of the fact that many of the patients ill with the disease are rapidly convalescing and many have entirely recovered it is not believed that at the present time there are more than 100 cases in the city.

TO FIX BLAME FOR WAR

Special Commission to Probe Culpability From the Kaiser Down.
Paris, Jan. 24.—Punishment for the Kaiser and his associates was formally taken up by the supreme war council yesterday.

The belief prevailed in certain quarters that the council will adopt some form of the program suggested by the American delegation in this regard—appointment of a special commission to investigate thoroughly the culpability of all those responsible for the war, from the Kaiser down, so that none might escape.

It was expected that the various forms of punishment to be meted out will be taken up simultaneously, that nothing may be overlooked in the way of affording a warning for future potential war makers.

In connection with the discussion of responsibility and punishment for individuals, the penalty for the German nation was also considered. It is now accepted that indemnities will be limited to reparation for damages, but the huge sum these are expected to amount to will constitute an additional penalty, nevertheless.

STRIKE IMMINENT

President of W. R. & E. Co., Refuses to Recognize Union.

Flat refusal by President W. F. Ham, of the Washington Railway and Electric Company, to sign the contract presented by a committee of its union employees, which were swelled to more than 700 in number by 123 new accessions to the union in the last twenty-four hours, was reported by the committee to the mass meeting at Waiters' Hall, Sixth near G street northwest, last night. The meeting was attended by ninety per cent of the employees of the entire system of the company, all of whom are now members of Division 589, Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America. At 1 o'clock this morning the question of calling a strike had not been voted upon.

WARSHIP HITS MINE

Torpedoboot 325 is Sunk; 18 of the Crew Are Missing.

Paris, Jan. 24.—The French torpedoboot No. 325 has struck a mine and sunk off the coast of Tunis. Eighteen men of the crew are missing.

Torpedoboot No. 325 was launched in 1906. The vessel was 122 feet long, and had a speed of 26 knots an hour.

INGOMAR—Constance Talmadge

"Sauce for the Goose" which is the attraction tonight at the Ingomar, is part of an old proverb, but the latest picture, in which Lewis J. Selznick presents Constance Talmadge, and which takes its name from the old proverb, is filled with brand new situations of a laugh-provoking nature. The laughs follow so fast that they trip one another up, for Constance Talmadge, with her ready smile, beauty, and genius for comedy, comes to the screen in a very fine performance.

Demented Man Enters Homes in Washington, Shoots Two Females and Chokes Another—Fiend Still at Large—Suspects Arrested.

A maniac is roaming at liberty in Washington, or its near vicinity, today.

Three women, two of them workers, are known to have been attacked by him early this morning as they lay in their beds.

Two were shot, one probably fatally and a third was choked.

Police and detectives are guarding every avenue of escape from the city and, with a detailed description of the demented terrorist, are combing the city.

They believe that he is an escaped inmate from an insane hospital either here or in a neighboring State.

Miss Lillian Hood and Miss Martha Gagan were shot by the man, and Miss Fowler was choked by him.

Baltimore, Jan. 24.—Two men have been arrested here on arrival of trains from Washington as suspects. One is white, the other colored. Both deny knowledge of the crime.

SAW FEET UNDER BED

Man of the House Extracted Their Owners Who at Once Attacked Him

New York, Jan. 24.—A pair of shoes, inside of which the feet of a stranger protruding from under the bed where his two children were asleep, met the gaze of J. Lester Feiman, a lawyer, of this city when he returned home with his wife. He tried to extract the stranger from under the sleeping place of his daughters, Florence, 5 years old and Amy, 7, who had been left on the second floor.

"Don't shoot," answered a husky voice, as Feiman pulled at the feet "I'll come out."

"Don't be afraid," answered Feiman. "I have no revolver and you will be safe if you surrender," as he called the attorney.

Mr. Feiman realized the mistake he made in declaring an armistice when the man crawled from under the bed and attacked him. There was a wrestling match, but the screams of the awakened children and Mrs. Feiman warned the intruder to make his escape. He ran from the apartment after he threw Mr. Feiman to the floor, but in the darkness he missed the front entrance to the house and ran into the cellar.

Mr. Feiman followed until he saw the man go into the dark cellar. He then locked the door and shouted to his wife to telephone to the police. Mrs. Feiman called police headquarters. The police searched the cellar and finally ousted a bedraggled figure from a dark corner. He held his hands high above his head and shouted: "Kamerad."

In the West Sixty-eighth Street Station the prisoner said: he was Robert Scott, 23 years old, of the Eighth Avenue Hotel. He was charged with burglary.

RICHMOND—"The Kaiser's Finish."

The "Kaiser's Finish," will be the attraction for two days at the Richmond beginning today.

You will see the startling retribution visited on the Kaiser by one of his secret and actual acts of vandalism.

Starting with the revelation to an American reared youth, fervent in his loyalty to the ideals of his United States, that his soul was seared by the Kaiser with the most terrible of scars, the story speeds through the strong, gripping dramatic situations of his momentous decision when he learns that he cannot enlist in the Army of Democracy, to the culmination of his mastering purpose, when the Kaiser finds his place in the sun.

HONORED BY FRANCE

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Snowden have been notified that the French government has conferred the coveted croix de guerre upon their son, Mr. Windsor Snowden, of the ambulance corps, for distinguished bravery in action on October 14 and 15.

Organization Would Place the Stars and Stripes at Every Port in the World—Only Americans Will Be Admitted to Membership.

An organization which has for its object the placing of the Stars and Stripes in every part of the world was formed yesterday as a result of a conference held under auspices of the Shipping Board.

Shipping interests in all parts of the nation are represented in the new organization, which is to be called the National Merchant Marine Association. Membership is limited to American citizens. Its platform is to build up and extend the American merchant marine, which found rebirth in the war.

Opposition to the new organization manifested itself on the part of certain officials, headed by Rear Admiral Francis Bowles, who has charge of the work of the Emergency Fleet Corporation at Hog Island.

Admiral Bowles, in a heated address, declared that the association represents not the people of the United States, but the shipping interests, and that what is really needed is an organization that will speak for the nation.

Over the opposition of Admiral Bowles, who sought to have tabled his motion establishing the association, resolution of organization were adopted. R. Goodwyn Rhett, of Charleston, S. C., first president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, was selected president. Winthrop L. Marvin, of Boston, was elected secretary. A council of thirty members will govern the organization.

The notion establishing the association was made by J. Parker Kirwin, a New York admiralty lawyer, who served as chairman of the organization committee.

The new organization enters the field as frankly in favor of the sale of the ships built and building by the Shipping Board and Emergency Fleet Corporation to private interests. Effects will be made, it is stated, to obtain from Congress legislation under which the American merchant marine may develop favorably.

ADDRESSES MASONS

Representative Marvin Jones, of Texas, last night delivered an interesting address on his experiences on the battlefields of Europe before he members of Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons.

He told of conditions as he found them in France and reviewed the work to be accomplished in this country after peace has been declared, especially in relation to the economic and industrial life.

BUTTER DROPS IN PRICE

Decreased Government and Foreign Demand Paralyzes Market.
Chicago, Jan. 24.—Butter dropped cents a pound yesterday wholesale. This makes a total fall of 15 cents a pound in less than two weeks.

Wholesale trade in butter was described as not merely demoralized but paralyzed. Demand, both foreign and domestic, was almost at the zero point. Stoppage of government and foreign buying as a result of cheap supplies abroad, especially from Australia and South America started the decline. Excessive high prices in the domestic trade did the rest.

San Francisco, Jan. 24.—Butter dropped to 50 cents wholesale on the local market yesterday, a decline of 1 cent since yesterday and 10 cents since the first of the week. The break in the market is attributed to the large receipts and the few outside calls for the product.

GRAND THEATRE

Women who are approaching the meridian of life and dread the thoughts of gray hair and wrinkles will be interested in "A Mother's Secret," which will be seen at the Grand Theatre tomorrow, because the photoplay to a large degree gives the solution of overcoming the bugaboo. It is a regular lecture to women on "the way to keep youthful" and the advice is built around the character of a woman who visualizes the part of the mother of Ella Hall, the star of the production.

"A Keystone comedy also will be shown."

CHILD SHOT TO DEATH

Sam Maddox Charged With Killing Baby, Wounding Mother.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 24.—As a result of a quarrel with her husband in their room shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday morning, the seven-months old baby of Mrs. Sam Maddox is dead and the mother lies seriously wounded in the city hospital. The child was killed while nursing at its mother's breast. The bullet entered the mother's side and ploughed through the baby's eyes into its brain.

Maddox is lodged in a cell at the police station and continually raves over the murder of his baby. It is said the father had been drinking heavily.

GERMAN ASSEMBLY TO MEET

Opening Will Mark Inauguration of New Republic

Washington, Jan. 24.—The German constituent assembly will meet at Weimar on February 6, according to a dispatch from Berlin reaching Washington yesterday through diplomatic channels. Opening of the assembly will mark the formal inauguration of the German republic. The body probably will reconvene later in Berlin, the dispatch suggested.

Zurich, Jan. 24.—The Spartacists have announced their intention to prevent the meeting of the national assembly at Weimar. They threaten to cut railway communications and the telegraph lines and to proclaim a general strike in Westphalia.

The Hefge, Jan. 24.—Berlin has been cut off from communication for eighteen hours. The city is in the throes of one of the worst general strikes in its history. The decision to hold the national assembly at Weimar instead of Berlin, is believed to have contributed considerably to the feelings of bitterness and discontent, the whole people feeling the humiliation thus meted out to the once proud and overbearing Prussian capital.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving memory of our baby and only boy, Landon Brent Morgan, aged 5 years, who left for his eternal home just 3 months ago today.

God called him home in the bloom of health.
Gave him a place of eternal wealth,
It left a scar upon my heart
That all through life will ne'er depart.

From infancy he loved the Lord,
And loved the reading of his word
His evening prayer was always said
E'er he tumbled into bed.

Dear Landon, thou art resting now
The cold, cold earth across thy brow,
I realize through tears and pain,
My loss was his eternal gain,
By his mother,
Mrs. Edward Morgan.

In sad but loving memory of my devoted son, James T. Smith, Jr., who died one year ago today, January 24, 1918.

The last farewell was spoken
One year ago today,
My heart was almost broken
When my loved one passed away.
I often sit and think of him
When I am all alone,
For memory is the only thing
That grief can call its own.

I sat beside his dying bed
And saw his life depart,
And when I saw that he was dead
It almost broke my heart.
By his devoted mother,
Mrs. Addie A. Smith.

THE LATE LIEUT. EVANS

Was One of Most Promising Officers Navy Has Ever Had Says Writer in Army and Navy Journal—Praised by Army and Navy Register.

The Army and Navy Journal of January 18, contains the following account of the death of Lieut. Chaplin Eppes Evans, son of Capt. and Mrs. George H. Evans, of this city, who died in Bridgeport, Conn., September 30, written by a naval officer.

"I was fortunate indeed while in command of the — to have Chaplin with me. Without exception he was just about the most efficient, lovable man, or young man, I have seen in the service. During all the anxious hours while at sea in the war zone, in submarine areas, in heavy fog or running at high speed on dark nights without lights, I felt more comfortable, more secure with Chaplin on the bridge than frequently with much older and more experienced officers. In several instances, which I recall vividly, he averted collisions with probable loss of life and even ship, by his efficient and instantaneous action. His modesty, cheerfulness and strength of character endeared him to all and made him the most wonderful shipmate and messmate a man could have. If I could have been fortunate in being able to choose my officers on this vessel, when she was commissioned, Chaplin would have been the first officer asked for. I think I can easily realize the blow his death has brought to you, and I must admit, when I think of him, a pang goes through my heart which forces me to realize the loss of a friend, a comrade, a shipmate, and one of the most valuable and promising young officers the Navy has ever had."

The following account is from the Army and Navy Register of November 30, 1918:

"The death of Lieutenant Chaplin Eppes Evans, U. S. Navy, which occurred in Bridgeport, Conn., September 30, where he was spending the week end with the family of a former classmate, was a distinct shock to his many friends both in and out of the service. His striking and magnetic personality and unfailing courtesy made him a delightful companion and his ideals, loyalty, and devotion to the service an officer of whom the Navy could well be proud. Lieutenant Evans graduated from Annapolis June, 1916, and was prominent in both class and athletic activities. Upon graduation he was assigned to the U. S. destroyer Nicholson, which was among the first to go overseas upon declaration of war. He was later ordered to the U. S. S. Sterett as ordnance officer, in which capacity he served until made executive of that ship. He received the commendation of his commanding officer for his efficiency as gunnery officer and was recommended for executive duty by Admiral Simms. After fifteen months of continuous service he was ordered back to this country and given two weeks leave. He was then sent to New London, Conn., for special work before reporting to the Union Iron Works, Cal., for duty on the new destroyer Ludlow. While in New London he contracted influenza, which developed into pneumonia, thus bringing his career of so much promise and credit to an untimely end. Lieutenant Evans was the only child of Captain and Mrs. George Hewitt Evans, of Alexandria, Va., and was 24 years old. His funeral which was with full military honors, was held October 2 from St. Paul's Episcopal Church and was conducted by the Rev. Dr. P. P. Phillips, D. D., assisted by the Rev. Sidney Key Evans, chaplain of the U. S. Naval Academy. Lieutenant Evans was descended from a long line of fighting men and men prominent in the making of the early history of America."

OLD JOBS AWAIT EMPLOYEES OF SWIFT AND COMPANY

Old jobs for men returning from national service, with prevailing rates of pay, is the rule which is rapidly bringing back former employees of Swift & Company who have been wearing uniforms since the United States entered the world war.

The work of reinstating men has been given a flying start as the result of the announcement made by Louis F. Swift president of the company, that all of the 7,434 men who answered the call to arms would find their old jobs waiting for them as soon as they are ready to resume work after receiving their discharge.

Several hundred men have already been reinstated. Of this number, 2 have returned to the Alexandria branch and three more are expected.

WAR ON ISRAELITES

Shortly after the late war had been precipitated upon the world the Russians became active and invaded parts of the northeastern sections of Prussia where they it was said committed untold horrors. They were subsequently forced back by the Germans, who, in turn, perpetrated equally as great horrors upon the Muscovites if reports are true. The unnecessary slaughter in the Masurian Lakes, while Hindenburg was in command, will long be remembered. About this time the Russians ran amuck in Galicia, where they committed many outrages.

As has ever been the case in war, the Jews were the objects of vengeance of both armies.

During these reigns of terror Rabbi Simon, of Washington, delivered an address in Alexandria, in which he stated that the Jews were kept upon the anvil, no matter which party happened to be in the ascendant. Hundreds were brutally murdered, women violated, houses burned and thousands forced to flee for their lives during the strenuous winters of that portion of the world, Israelites, rendered homeless, in some cases were forced to dig holes in the ground in which they placed their wives and little ones in order to preserve them from the fury of the elements.

But the war is over now, and what excuse there can be for more heinous treatment of Jews is hard to understand. We are told by dispatches from Lemberg, which passed from Russian to German hands several times during the clash of arms, that at least one hundred Israelites have been slaughtered recently, two hundred and sixty burned to death, and that at least three thousand have perished in one way or another.

About twelve million Jews at the time of the outbreak of the war resided in and near Galicia, or about one-half of the descendants of Abraham now in the world. It seems they are still objects of persecution even in this so-called enlightened age.

GHOST OF FEDERAL PARTY

If there is anything in Senator Harding's denunciation of the President's idealism, as he calls it, it is the voice of the ghost of the Federal party says the Philadelphia Record. "That party has been dead for a century. It died of distrust of the people. It perished because it was afraid of democracy. The Republican Democratic party, or the Jeffersonian party, has survived all vicissitudes of our politics: The Federal party had a short career. It was succeeded by the Whig party, and that by the Republican party, but some elements of Federalism appear to have survived.

"Senator Harding finds that the President's addresses stimulate Bolshevism. It sounds very much like the speeches of the Federalists against Thomas Jefferson. Mr. Harding does not go back far enough in seeking the inspiration of the Bolsheviks. He ought logically to find it in the Declaration of Independence. The Federalists showed their distrust of that document and their fear that it would be taken seriously.

"Their fears were mostly confined to their own country, but they were not slow to find the insidious doctrines of the immortal Declaration in the French Reign of Terror, just as Mr. Harding finds the pernicious influence of the President's idealism in the ravages of the Bolsheviks.

But Democracy has, nevertheless, vindicated itself in America, and it has vindicated itself in the British dominions and in Great Britain itself, and in France. In localities the beginnings of democracy have been anarchic at times, but it is too well established, and it has produced too much good fruit to make it necessary to justify democracy or to dwell on the difference between a government of the people and by the people and for the people and the tyranny of a faction, or the violence of the destructive elements of society.

LETTER FROM FRANCE

Mrs. M. J. Angerine has just received a letter from her husband, Sergt. M. J. Angerine, dated December 15, who at present is stationed at Rhein Brohl, Germany. He says this is a town in Germany just across the Rhine. His company has just completed a march of 300 miles which was started November 17.

The writer describes the place as beautiful, but none of the places he has seen he says compares with the good old U. S. A. Sergt. Angerine belongs to the second division, which forms part of the troops of the 12th Field Artillery. All of the men wish to be remembered to the citizens of Alexandria. They were formerly quartered at old St. Asaph.
